

Projects Will Create Jobs, Improve Local Infrastructure, and Strengthen the Area's Military Bases

Implements Greater Transparency and Accountability Reforms

Washington, DC - Congressman John Adler today posted a complete list of appropriations requests on his website as part of a new process to ensure greater government transparency. The funding requests are part of the Congressman's efforts to create jobs, rebuild the economy, and support seniors and veterans.

"These project investments will go a long way in creating jobs, helping small businesses, and supporting middle class New Jersey families," Congressman Adler said. "And for the first time, we have a process in place that allows the American public to review these economic development projects, and keep up-to-date on their progress. I know that New Jersey families are struggling to make ends meet, and I am working hard to support projects and fight for funding that will bring real value to New Jersey communities."

A complete list of Congressman Adler's funding requests can be found on his website. The list includes funding for economic developments projects, such as:

- Marlton Circle - Funding will be used to build the West Main Street - Old Marlton Pike Connector which would connect the roadways of East Main Street and Old Marlton Pike. This project will benefit local businesses and create jobs.
- Burlington County College Small Business Incubator - Funding will be used to expand the High Technology Small Business Incubator at Burlington County College, with particular emphasis on building an infrastructure to attract fledgling companies focused on alternative, sustainable energy development. This will create jobs in our community and help small businesses grow.
- Beach Replenishment - Funding will be used to conduct beach erosion studies, build groins and jetties to protect beaches from surf, storm surge and tidal currents, and long term nourishment efforts like pumping tons of dredged sand back onto eroded beaches. These projects are necessary to create jobs and protect our shores.
- Community Medical Center -- This project will upgrade the ongoing cancer treatment program at Community Medical Center by purchasing equipment that will improve the delivery of cancer treatments. This will improve the quality of life for local patients and produce better health outcomes.

Over the past few months, Congressman Adler reached out to local elected officials, nonprofits and businesses to listen to their project priorities. To ensure accountability and transparency, Congressman Adler is posting all earmark requests online and is sending a letter to the Appropriations Committee certifying that he will not benefit financially from any earmarks. All projects that he is requesting will boost economic development or strengthen local communities.
